Terms of Service

Basic and Special Terms of Use of Verband Fenster + Fassade (VFF)

Basic Terms of Use for Publications

All publications of Verband Fenster + Fassade (VFF, Window and Façade Association) including all their parts are protected by copyright.

Each type of utilization which is not explicitly permitted by copyright, in particular reproduction, dissemination, exhibition, editing, translation, microfilming as well as storage and processing in electronic data processing systems is subject to prior permission of the editors.

Each type of utilization outside the strict construction of copyright law is prohibited without prior permission of the editors and will be subject to prosecution. In this context, the editors explicitly reserve all rights to any potential claims, in particular regarding omittance and compensation of damages.

Special terms of Use for Electronic Documents

Electronic documents (e.g. DOC- or PDF-format) are subject to copyright in the same way as printed documents.

The buyer quoted, resp. identified by a corresponding code in these documents (hereinafter called “buyer”) has, in addition to the basic terms of use quoted above, to comply with the following conditions, when using these documents:

The buyer may use the documents only for his own, in-house purposes, either at an individual workplace or on the in-house network of his company. He may pass on excerpts, e.g. as appendices to individual letters, provided he quotes the source. It is not permitted to pass on the documents together with resp. in the form of so-called “bulk letters”. The buyer also has to ensure that the recipient does not pass on the documents received. If the documents are passed on, the buyer will be liable to the editor, especially for any damages incurred.

It is not permitted to give access to the documents to third parties, or to make them available (either in part or completely) via the Internet and/or other local intranet-systems (e.g. customer data bases).

Any alteration of the documents is not permitted. The buyer is obliged to use them only in an appropriate manner. He is obliged not to abuse of the possibilities of access and to comply with the recognized principles of the protection of data safety. Furthermore, he shall inform the editors immediately of any abusive use of the documents.

Otherwise, the buyer will ensure that unauthorized third parties may not acquire the documents or any copies made by him or the buyer thereof, or obtain knowledge about the contents of the data in an unauthorized manner.

Content

Since 2005, B+L evaluates the markets windows and exterior doors in the relevant world markets regularly. The basis of market forecasts is formed from a comprehensive analysis of indicators, combined with findings from ongoing B+L target group surveys, which provide information on product trends and renovation sector.

The main goal of the market study is to determine the production of exterior doors by types of materials in Germany. The model allows regular updates.

Types of researched exterior doors:

- a. PVC Doors
- b. Wood Doors
- c. Metal Doors
- d. Others

Production, Import, Export, Sales

Regarding the foreign trade, the TOP5 importing and exporting countries are also presented.

Method

To verify the production and foreign trade of the German market, the approach of so called triangulation is selected. The sales volume is determined in different ways: in this case, the following approaches are chosen as a combination:

- Individual assessment of the manufacturers (cross-questioning of all market participants, the sample); Identification of the relevant foreign producers and their export shares to Germany and their development to verify the German imported sales volume
Number of interviews: 78
- Interviews with industry experts and relevant importers / distributors of windows on practical validation
Number of interviews: 26

- Sales volumes calculations of statistics Productions + imports - exports (with sample verification of statistic registration numbers in the establishments). As a result, we obtain a corrected "official" statistics, which allows in certain markets alignments and cross-examinations.
- Sales volume calculation: The product sales demand is the developments of different frame materials used in the various types of buildings and in the both segments new construction / renovation. (Comparison with existing studies VFF / B + L Outlook Windows DE)

Total number of interviews manufacturers + dealers: N = 104
